The Residency provides:

The Dance Artist (or Scholar) in Residence receives Club membership for the year. The residency offers limited free dance rehearsal space in Heliconian Hall. The space is large and open, unobstructed and well-lit. The floor has a suitable dance surface and some natural spring due to wooden joists in the building construction.

As a mutually beneficial program the Artist-in-Residence is expected to take part in Dance Section activities and to share her work-in-progress by opening a dance rehearsal to Club members and guests part way through the year (usually January), and to participate in another short performance event in June with the other Artists-in-Residence; in the case of scholars, two presentations of their work during the year.
